NSW Department of Primary Industries encourages all beekeepers to consider becoming a member of their nearest beekeeping association.

Advantages include:
• keeping up to date with the latest beekeeping issues, practices and research
• an ability to advocate for the interests of beekeepers
• an opportunity to share your interests and knowledge in beekeeping
• help to secure your industry’s future
• newsletters and journals for members
• conferences, field days and meetings
• legal aid representation for all Native Title claims over bee site licence areas
• insurance tailored to beekeeping operations (offered by some associations).

Amateur Beekeepers’ Association
This association for amateur (recreational) beekeepers has over twenty beekeeping clubs across the state.

The association produces a bi-monthly news sheet for members and provides personal beekeeping insurance.

Branches hold regular meetings and field days and are keen to support new beekeepers.

Their website provides information about beekeeping and activities. All the clubs are listed with contact details.
